we feel no disposition to oppose it, for, base would be he wh, would deprive honest toli of its reward, and our Angio Saxon ideas are too firmly grounded in the principles of justice to take from labor and economy the traits of their efforts, viz: capital. Indeed, the men who figured at that meeting make it entirely unnecessary, if any one were opposed to some of the revolutions passed and principles enunciated, seriously to combat them. It will not take the intelligent working men of Chicago long to find out that the chief fagier at that meeting, Mr. E. W. Mc-Comus, is a spring of the Southern aristocracy, who regard them as "greasy mechanics and filthy operatives, not fit to associate with a Southern gentleman's body servant." To pretend that in this country where every avenue to wealth, honor and power is prifectly open to all, there is any real antagonism between capital and labor, is abunding so transparent and glaring that it cannot gain asy permanent influence upon the public mind. Capital is simply the result of long continued labor and conomy. True men sometimes accommiste a large fortune in a short time by speculation, but these are exceptional cases and not the general role. Who are the expitalists of Chicago I. Men who thirty, or at most forty, years ago were entirely poor. Recently we heard two of them railying, such other pleasantly about their first meeting in Chicago. stranger for money mough to pay his fare to the capital of a sloop on which he came from Buffalo, before he was permitted to come subore. The same intelligent industry and economy will make every man who attended the meeting on Saturday evening a capitalist at three score years and item. Take another case. If we are correctly informed, Mayor Sherman came to this city some tairty years ago poor, or at least comparatively so. By persevering industry, he accumulated expital sufficient to build the Sherman House. By so doing he contributed to the support and the prosperity of a large class of mechanics—in fact he used his capital to make als masons, expensions, plumbers, painters, &c., &c., in their furn capitalists, for it is eafe to presume that they made money by their contracts. Is there any antegousem between Mayor Shermas, because his energy and industry sive made him rick, and the labor of the city? Reinforcements for Hood—The Rebel Works—weather Our Communications—Important devements.

[Prom our Special Correspondent.]

Nasstrana, Angast 17.

Matters are progressing surely, but slowly, at the front, though I think a dash will be made pretty soon which will startle General Hood in no small degree. A number of correspondents have 'externed from the front. respondents have returned from the front, because they are inclined to believe there will be several weeks of ioactivity; but they will, I feel eare, find themselves seriously mistaken. Sherman is not, and will not be mistaker. Sherman is not, and will not be idle.

REINFORCEMENTS TO BOOD.

General Hood has been reinforced, but not from Virginia. The Georgia militia and 8.

D. Lee and Forrest's forces are with him, numbering in all from 15,000 to 20,000 men. Although at one time I was feelined to credit the reported reinforcement from Lee, I am now convinced that I was merror.

THE REBERT WORKS.

The rebel works are very strong, but not stronger than ours. They could be carried but at great sacrifice of life; and therefore a direct assault may not be looked for. Expect, therefore, to hear of more flanking—more successful flanking.

THE WATHER. pect, therefore, to hear of more flanking—more successful flanking.

The weather at the front has been intensely hot; but the nights are cool, so that half the effect of the torrid days is taken away by a cool, refreshing night's sleep. There have been a number of showers within the last two or three weeks, which have kept down the dust, and furnished abundant water for the men.

OUR COMMUNICATION.

OUR COMMUNICATIONS.

Wheeler made an abordive attack upon our communications, on Sunday last, in the vicinity of Dalton, and the garrison at that place, under command of Colonel Liebold, attacked soon after. Information was forwarded to Gen. Stedman, at Castateous, and immediately reinforcements were forwarded to the scene of action; up to the long of this writing (10s m.) nothing rarther has been beard of the matter.

One thing is certain: whether Wesler really contemplates a serious raid on Sherman's communications or not, I do not know, but certain it is, his force is not large enough to accomplish nuck; and he wall not in the least interfers with Sherman's and operations. We always have a large quantity of supplies on hand at the front; and Wheeler could do no damage which could not be repaired in twenty-four hours.

I feel assured that at no that lean over 2,000 men be spared for these raids; and our exwalry may take advantage of the absence of this number of men, and relatiate upon the rebells with heavy interest. Nothing would be casine than to do this, because of the suppriors of Gen. A. J. Smith's movement from Menuphis cannot be valued too highly. His force is large—larger than is not the man to allow opportunities to pass unimproved.

IMPORTANT MOVEMBERT.

The importance of Gen. A. J. Smith's movement from Menuphis cannot be valued too bighly. His force is large—larger than is generally supposed; and he goes to hold, possess and besiege; he goes to hold, possess and besiege; he goes to man is not the man to allow opportunities to pass unimproved.

In reel pretty sure that we shall hear of the states of Alabama and Missisalppi of the inaryents four r. He will met with little or no-opposition. S. D. Lee left the greater portion of unforces mader his command at Daiton; Forever, who really was a Eight game, is certainly dead; a

A SMALL RAID.

Dick McNeiry, a notorious villain, who was so severely wounded a short time since that it was believed he died from the effects, has appeared on the stage again. Thomas B. Jeffries, of lawful age, being duly aworn, says: On er shout the 4th day of August, 1964. I fell in company with a young man from the dists of Hilmon, who said his name was John Williams. In conversation he asked me it I know Elished Leffler, aging that the said Leffler was a cousin of his. He asked me how long I had known him, and want kind of a man he was. I toled him I had known him for about twenty-five years, and he used to be a number one man and a good citizen. He them said that was the name he bore in the country he came from. He left me then, and I went off. In shout an hour he came back and approached me and asked me how I liked the Prevalent's Proclamation: I told him I stayed at some, read nothing, and tid not know how to enswer his question. He then saked me how I was on the next President's election, who I was going to support. I told him there were some of them taking about supporting McClellan. He said the would post me. He said the belonged to the Knights of the Clellan was a wer Democrat. He then gave me a grip, and said. "old follow, you have been there, but you are not quite right." He then the was done there had you have been there, but you are not quite right." He then the would post me. He said he belonged to the Knights of the Golden Circle, or what is now sailed the Sons of Liberty; that he belonged to what is called History Club Lodg, in Hemderson county, History, that he chot was 300 strong, and well armed, with a carbine and two nay revorvers apices, and that they were going to realst the club was 300 strong, and well armed, with a carbine and two nay revorvers apices, and that they were going to realst the club was 300 strong, and well armed, with a carbine and two nay revorvers apices, and that they were going to realst the club was 300 strong, and well armed, with a carbin OHICAGO LUMBER MARRET.

ton Paw-paw raid in Missouri was well ander process of being quelled, about the 20th ult, Gen. Curtis started from Fort Leavenworth, intending to proceed to Colorado, by way of the Santa Fe road to Fort Union, themes to Denver, and return by the Platteroad to Leavenworth, thus visiting all the posts in his department.

He arrived at Fort Riley, and found the whole country alive with the wildest rumors and excitement. So much was evident—that the Indians had made an attack in the vicinity of Fort Leaned, had killed a number of men, find stolen a lorge amount of stock. The frontier settlement in the valley of the Smoky Hill, Solomon and Saline Rivora, on the stage route from Fort Riley to Fort Larned, had already suffered severely in the ions of stock, etc.

Upon the road between Larned and Cotton-wood Springs, about 160 miles wast of Kansas City, a large number of Mexican and Government trains were corrailed and threatened by the lodians. Among these was a large and visuable ordinance train, soing to New Mexico, with supplies of ammunition, arms, etc., for that department.

Gen Curtis took the most active measures to meet the exigence. At Fort Riley, Capt. Booth, of the 11th Kansas, and part of a company of the 7th lowa cavalry, were stationed. The General gathered up Riy. At Council Grove, forty miles south on the Santa Fe road. Capt. Dodge, 9th Wisconsin battery, was stationed with two sections—one section under Lieut. Edington—was ordered to join the General. Letters were sent to the commanding officers of the 14th and 15th regiments Karsass State militia, Cols. Scott and Frice, setting forth the energency, and asking that they call out their commands. This was done with great alsority, and in three days Gen. Curtis had about 500 well mounted and armed militia. The infantry were sent home. It as this was the first call made upon the militia of this section, their activity was certainly commendable. Most. of them left their grain on the ground, and their hay mowed but not stacked.

General Cartis, with his sma son Livingston, of Marion country, and, was houg in the jull yard in this city, in puresance of the sentence of a court marifal, of which Brigadier General S. A. Meredith was President. The first three charges and their specifications were thrown out by the court, on plea in bar, by the prisoner.

Charge fourth, being a soy. Specifications: In this that he was a Captain in the army of the so-cited Confederate States of America in arms sgainst the Constitution and Goretment of the United States, and of or about the month of April, 1803, disguised in the dress of a peaceful citizen, enter within the lines and territory occupied by the regularly organised and authorized forces of the United States, and in send dress and disguised did lurk about the fortifications, concappenders, post self quarters of the armies of the United States at and near the cities of St. Louis and Hannibal, Missouri, and falsely give his name as William Jackson, when arrested in Hannibal, Missouri, on or about the 9th of May, 1803.

To this charge and specification the prisoner pleaded "not cullty," and was found "yullty," by the court, and sentenced to be executed in this city on the 19th of Angust. Livingston was previously arrested and streed before a military commission which convened at St. Louis June 3 1866. was found guity on his former trial on the two following specifications:

First—that he, with certain persons unhnown, did so obstract and destroy the track of the Hominal and St. Joseph Railroad as to throw a train of ears on said road from the track near Palmyra, in September, 1861. Second—that he, with certain other persons unknown, did fire at and into a train of ears on the Hangibal and St. Joseph Railroad, with intent to kill and murder the persons in said train, n ar Palmyra, in Marion county, on or about the first of September, 1861. On this trial the prisoner was convicted and scatenord to be said, but the proceedings were disapproved on account of stodus of the Indians was to take place on or about the lat of August. Follasky's warning was given prior to that date. As a consequence, the settlers were on the never. Small bodies of Indians left the reservation about the hast of July, traveling southwest. On the 3d that, about two hundred of the suspected tribe camped on Mill Creek, near the settlement of Germans aforeasid. They, too, were proceeding southwest. Flading the whites on the airt, they abandoned the intended movement. It is believed, from information lately received, that they were advised thereto by their chiefs.

Of the brites located in Emans—commisting of the Delawares, Shawnees, Wyandots, Kickapoos, Ottawas, Miamis, Sac and Fores, Lowas, Osages, Pottowatomies, and Kawamunnberig in all about $500—it is not to be believed that there are any likely to become hostile except the Pottowattomies, Kawa, and perhaps a large portion of the Osagos.
